The Heads of Schools affiliated to CBSE

Subject: Training on Best Strategies from Remote, Blended and Hybrid Learning for School Leaders of affiliated Schools of CBSE

Dear Principals,

Digital transformation is an indisputable force revolutionizing our industries, reinventing our products, redefining our services, and reshaping the way we live and work. Its impact demands a change in schools and teaching practice. It shows how emerging technologies, including analytics and artificial intelligence, deliver far greater understanding of student capabilities and support new approaches to teaching and learning.

Schools around the world quickly transformed into online schools when the pandemic hit, but as students and teachers are returning to the physical space, it is the time to see this as an exciting opportunity to fundamentally change the lives of children and shift the trajectory of your community to re-think the school system.

Today's students need real-world skills to thrive in the not-too-distant future. They must develop qualities like critical thinking, collaboration, creativity, self-awareness, self-management, responsible decision-making, and the ability to construct complex solutions. This is true regardless of subject area. Complex skills are as important for artistic, service, and human-oriented professions as they are for more scientific, technological, or industrial employment.

Professional development for School leaders

Highest success of adoption among the teacher begins with the leadership team as they adopt a growth mindset, exhibit a personal culture of learning, and leverage modern technologies to support their collaboration and communications. They must reach beyond their institution's walls to work with other educational systems, schools and communities and consider the successes of others to develop their own methodologies. In the process, they practice a principle of distributed leadership, where they share responsibilities across their organization and empower others. A learning leader focuses on what their teachers know and educating them in their craft so that they can better educate their students. They use data to assess how their students and teachers are performing and create a collegial environment where teachers trust that they can learn from one another.

The CBSE in collaboration with Microsoft Education is conducting a training program for school leaders on new paradigms of learning – Remote, Blended and Hybrid Learning.
