Q. 23	Factors Pertaining to Product <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Price of the Product. The products of a lower price have a long chain of distributors. As against it, the products having higher price have a smaller chain. Very often, the producer himself has to sell the products to the consumers directly. • Perishability. The products which are of a perishable nature need lesser number of the intermediaries or agents for their sale. Under this very rule, most of the eatables (food items), and the bakery items are distributed only by the retail sellers. • Size and Weight. The size and weight of the products too affect the selection of the middlemen. Generally, heavy industrial goods are distributed by the producers themselves to the industrial consumers • Technical Nature. Some products are of the nature that prior to their selling, the consumer is required to be given proper instructions with regard to its consumption. In such a case less of the middlemen are required to be used. • Goods Made to Order. The products that are manufactured as per the orders of the customers could be sold directly and the standardized items could be sold off only by the middlemen. • After-Sales Service. The products regarding which the after-sales service is to be provided could be sold off either personally or through the authorized agents. (Any 2 with explanation) Factors pertaining to Company <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Level of Production. The manufacturers who are financially sound and are of a larger category, are able to appoint the sales representatives in a larger number and they could distribute the commodities (products) in larger quantities. As against it, for the smaller manufacturers, it becomes necessary to procure the services of the wholesalers and the retail traders. 	CBSE Study Material	3	85 & 86	4
---------------------	--	----------------------------	----------	--------------------	----------

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Financial Resources of the Company. From the financial point of view, the stronger company needs less middlemen • Managerial Competence and Experience. If some producer lacks in the necessary managerial experience or proficiency, he will depend more upon the middlemen. The new manufacturers in the beginning remain more dependent upon the middlemen. (Any 2 with explanation)
Q. 24	Public Relations is a broad set of guidelines which makes use of advertising, annual reports, brochures, event sponsorships, and undertaking social projects like helping poor and environment to build or maintain a favourable image with its various publics. Thus, PR is a generic term for a range of specialist and sophisticated skills involved in communication with publics through, primarily, broadcast, published media. Sponsorship like other marketing activities is more than a century old. It entered the oxford Dictionary around 1930. To sponsor something is to support financially or in-kind an event, activity, person, or organisation financially or through the provision of products or services to reach specified business goals for commercial advantage. A sponsor is the individual or group that provides the support. (2 Marks each)	CBSE Study Material	4	98	4
